

Internet Resources for Bible Study

Compiled by Dr. Jerry Nelson (www.soundliving.org) - May, 2010

<http://www.monergism.com/> Mongergism (This is “hands down” the best site I have accessed!!) “Classic Articles and Resources of the Historic Christian Faith. Broadly “reformed” in theology.

<http://reformed.org/index.html> “Center for Reformed Theology and Apologetics. Historic Church Documents

<http://zoecity.com/?sort=month> “Zoecity scans hundreds of Christian websites and highlights the top ten daily, weekly, and monthly articles, stories and videos.

<http://www.ccel.org/> Christian Classics Ethereal Library

<http://www.preachingtoday.com/illustrations/> (for fee) This is great for illustrations and preaching resources

<http://www.christianitytoday.com/ct/> This still gives an overview of key issues from the week, and usually has resources around special holidays.

<http://www.desiringgod.org/> Desiring God (John Piper)

<http://www.sermonlinks.com/> Sermon Links

<http://www.reformation21.org/> On-line magazine of the Alliance of Confessing Evangelicals

<http://www.churchtimeline.com/> Church history timeline

<http://thegospelcoalition.org/resources/category/articles/a#ByTopic>
Articles, etc of The Gospel Coalition

<http://www.biblegateway.com/> A Bible search tool with IVP N.T. Commentaries and Matthew Henry Commentaries

The following three websites seem to use the same Bible study tools materials: <http://www.crosswalk.com/> AND <http://bible.christianity.com/> AND <http://www.biblestudytools.com/> Commentators from a wide spectrum of evangelical theology (From C.I. Scofield to John Calvin to John Wesley)

<http://bible.org/> (Comments largely by Dallas Seminary graduates)

<http://www.blueletterbible.org/> Commentators from a wide spectrum of evangelical theology (Lewis Sperry Chafer to a Charles Haddon Spurgeon)
